

East Stroudsburg University of Pennsylvania

200 Prospect Street
East Stroudsburg, PA 18301-2999

Position Availability

EAST STROUDSBURG UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

SCHOOL HEALTH - TENURE TRACK FACULTY

East Stroudsburg University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position beginning Fall 2007. A Masters degree is required, a doctorate in school health, health education or related field is preferred. A minimum of one graduate degree in health education and experience with school health K – 12 teaching and teaching experience in higher education is required. Certification as a school health K-12 teacher; public school teaching experience; experience teaching at the graduate/undergraduate level; potential for scholarly activity; understanding of PDS programs; having worked with the integration of technology in the teaching and learning process; and, having the ability to work with diverse populations is preferred. To learn more about diversity at ESU and in our community visit our web site at www3.esu.edu/diversity/home.asp.

The 12-credit per semester work load will include supervising student teachers and teaching courses in school health education. Additionally, the successful candidate will be expected to provide leadership in expanding and strengthening the role of school health programs, mentor and advise undergraduate and graduate students; engage in scholarly activity; and provide service to the department, university and the community. All candidates must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S. and official transcripts at time of employment. Final determination will be based upon an interview, which may include a teaching demonstration.

Full consideration will be given to applications received by November 20, 2006. Send letter of application that indicates area of expertise and experience, curriculum vitae, evidence of quality teaching and an ability to supervise undergraduate research, copies of graduate transcripts and three recent letters of recommendation to the attention of: Health Department - Position #04452, Dr. Kimberly Razzano, Search Chair, P.O. Box 447, East Stroudsburg University, East Stroudsburg, PA 18301-0447.

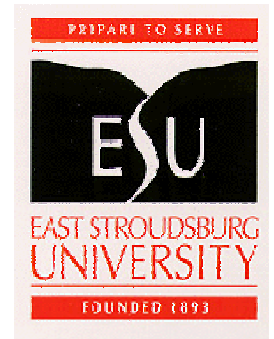

Located in the scenic Pocono Mountains within a 90-minute drive of New York City and two hours from Philadelphia, East Stroudsburg University is one of fourteen universities in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. Founded in 1893, with a current enrollment of nearly 7,000, the university's rich academic tradition continues to build on its sense of history with unique new undergraduate and graduate degree programs, and plans for a major new Science and Technology Center. Offering 68 undergraduate degree programs and graduate degrees in 23 areas, the university is experiencing increasing enrollments and is poised for continued growth. Adjacent to the unspoiled Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, the surrounding community offers options for suburban, small city, or country living.

---

*Minorities, Women, Persons with Disabilities, and Vietnam era Veterans are encouraged to apply at East Stroudsburg University where there is an intrinsic moral and legal commitment to AA/EEO
Visit our homepage at www.esu.edu*

East Stroudsburg University of Pennsylvania

200 Prospect Street
East Stroudsburg, PA 18301-2999

Position Availability

---

EAST STROUDSBURG UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

SCHOOL HEALTH - TENURE TRACK FACULTY

East Stroudsburg University invites applications for a full-time, tenure track position beginning Fall 2007. A doctorate in health education, school health or related field; a minimum of one graduate degree in health education is required. Demonstrated success in scholarly activity is strongly preferred (publishing of scholarly articles and securing extramural funding). Five years teaching at the undergraduate or graduate level is required for Associate level appointment.

Candidates with the following experiences will be preferred: public school health teaching experience; experience teaching at the graduate/undergraduate level; an understanding of and experience working with PDS programs; successful efforts with the integration of technology in the teaching and learning process; leadership in community and school collaborative activities; and the ability to work with diverse populations. To learn more about diversity at ESU and in our community visit our web site at www3.esu.edu/diversity/home.asp.

The 12-credit per semester work load will include teaching courses in school health education and health education as well as providing instruction in other departmental programs and mentoring health education students. Additionally, the successful candidate will be expected to: provide leadership in expanding and strengthening the school health programs at the undergraduate and graduate level, mentor and advise undergraduate and graduate students; engage in scholarly activity, including publications; and provide service to the department, university and the community, especially in projects that successfully integrate schools and communities.

All candidates must furnish proof of eligibility to work in the U.S. and official transcripts at time of employment. Final determination will be based upon an interview, which may include a teaching demonstration.

Full consideration will be given to applications received by November 20, 2006. Send letter of application that indicates area of expertise and experience, curriculum vitae, evidence of quality teaching and an ability to supervise undergraduate research, copies of graduate transcripts and three recent letters of recommendation to the attention of: Department- Position #04451, Dr. Kim Razzano, P.O. Box 447, East Stroudsburg University, East Stroudsburg, PA 18301-0447.

Located in the scenic Pocono Mountains within a 90-minute drive of New York City and two hours from Philadelphia, East Stroudsburg University is one of fourteen universities in the Pennsylvania State System of Higher Education. Founded in 1893, with a current enrollment of nearly 7,000, the university's rich academic tradition continues to build on its sense of history with unique new undergraduate and graduate degree programs, and plans for a major new Science and Technology Center. Offering 68 undergraduate degree programs and graduate degrees in 23 areas, the university is experiencing increasing enrollments and is poised for continued growth. Adjacent to the unspoiled Delaware Water Gap National Recreation Area, the surrounding community offers options for suburban, small city, or country living.

---

*Minorities, Women, Persons with Disabilities, and Vietnam era Veterans are encouraged to apply at East Stroudsburg University where there is an intrinsic moral and legal commitment to AA/EEO
Visit our homepage at www.esu.edu*