

Editor's Corner

In This Issue

This CJHP issue is devoted to health disparities and social justice. Every summer, the University of Texas, MD Anderson Cancer Center, Center for Research on Minority Health conducts a workshop on these topics. The scholarly papers arising from the 4th Annual Summer Workshop, Disparities in Health in America: Working Toward Social Justice, held on June 24-30, 2006, are included in this issue. The authors are all preeminent scholars in their fields. I would like to thank Dr. Lovell Jones and Dr. Isabel Torres for assembling this issue and for conducting a world class professional event. For more information about the Center for Research on Minority Health, please visit their web site (<http://www.mdanderson.org/departments/crmh/>).

Upcoming Professional Conferences: American School Health Association

The 81st Annual American School Health Association Conference, July 9 - 13, 2007, will be held at the Ala Moana Hotel in Honolulu, Hawaii. The theme for the conference is, "Health Literacy in Many Cultures."
